Hot Coronado Life

At Coronado, we are proud of the traditions and diversity of students who make this campus "HOT." We are on the trail of bigger and better things. In order to improve and enhance our campus many "hot" changes were brought about. In its second year, the modified closed campus had its ups and downs but the best thing that came about was the friendships and bonds that will never be forgotten. The many things that ignited the flame of enthusiasm included the clubs, classes, and sport activities. For clubs, the motivation was socially becoming as well as to help the community. Classes, we learned skills now that we will be able to use later in life.

In sports, the teamwork and competition helped us to be winners in many different ways. As this book unfolds you will see Coronado, hot on the trail. Attitudes and moods change as the year progresses. Many students get excited when Homecoming arrives. The activities include building floats, window painting and lunch time festivities throughout the week.

Before we know it, the heat is on again, as the days warm up and research projects are due. The arrival of Junior-Senior prom signals that the year is almost over. Freshmen are now more comfortable with the familiar surroundings.

Graduation is the culmination of every ones hopes and dreams. They are now ready to pursue whatever they wish.

Hot On The Trail Of Life

Life at Coronado this past year was filled with many new, "hot" happenings. One of the hottest was the 'Parent on campus' policy. The main objective of this system was to offer an alternative to student suspension. It was where parents spent a school day with students for a variety of different reasons.

Another explosive change that occurred this year was the location of the lockers. Initially housed in the buildings, the lockers were relocated, outside, in order to reduce the noise levels in the buildings.

Another blazing change was the construction of a new building. It was added to accomodate the L.S.C., foreign language and health center needs. Two sport facilities received facelifts also. The gym was refurbished and the tennis courts were replaced.

Pep assemblies, as always, were a success in bringing forth all the students' and faculty's spirit. The pride felt throughout Coronado was shown by the cheers that erupted during the few pep assemblies put on this past year.

Activities during the assemblies included class competition races, color shouts, and the introduction of athletic team members. The crowd was also entertained while cheerleaders, donettes, colorguard, ACE and the band performed.

The biggest pep assembly this past year was the "Pep Fest" which was held outside on the football field on Homecoming Day. What made the pep fest different than other pep assemblies was the awarding of some faculty member awards and the displaying of the Homecoming Floats?

Although seniors seemed to be overall the most spirited class this past year, every class portrayed an overwelming amount of spirit which made the pep assemblies fun for all.

"This past year I have seen more spirit," stated junior Sandy Del Greco.

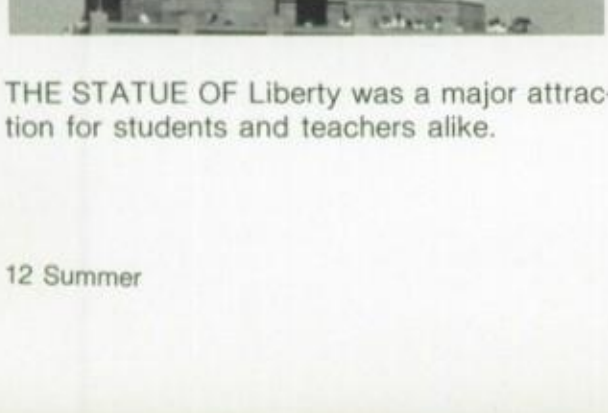
When asked what their favorite time of the school year is, students and teachers alike almost always say, summer.

The state-wide Yearbook Camp, AIPA, was held at NAU, and the Cheerleading Camp was held at La Jolla, California, where they won the spirit stick and overall superior for leadership. We also had four All-American Cheerleaders. There were also other camps such as Anytown, Boys State and Girls State.

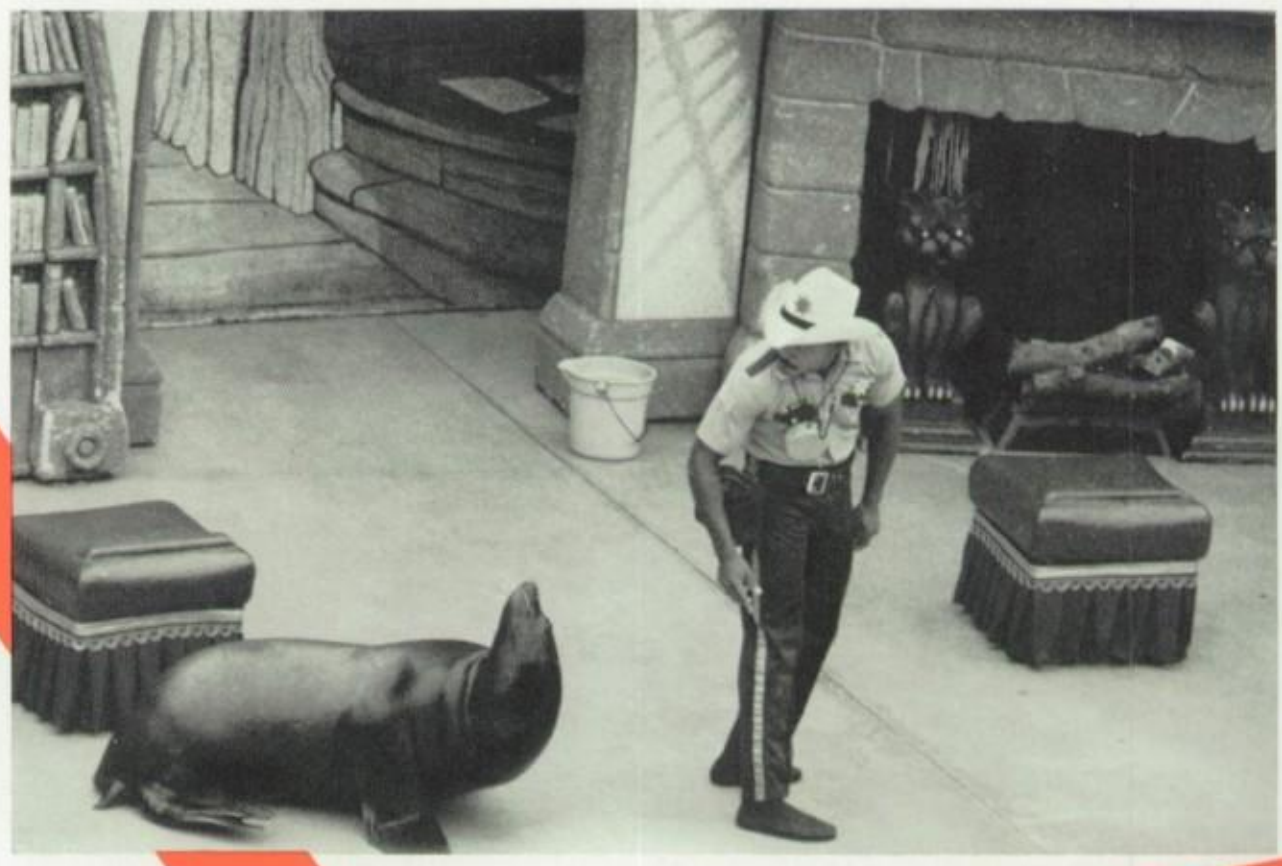
Junior Lisa Eichenauer commented on summer, "Boy, is it HOT" to which her friend Andrea Raia replied," It's just the hot air coming out of your head."

VISITING THE ZOO, among other things is a favorite pastime during the summer.

CRIPPLE CREEK, COLORADO was also a popular place to visit over the summer.



THE STATUE OF Liberty was a major attraction for students and teachers alike.



WATCHING THE ANIMALS at Sea World in San Diego was something many students enjoyed.

The wonderful sound of dismissal bells, most students would say it's music to their ears. Their first though after hearing that lovely sound, would be to make plans for an exciting night out. What exactly is there to do for nightlife fun? For many, movies, athletic games, shopping, nightclubs or local hangouts may be an answer.

Every Tuesday there is the $2.50 movies, where students can catch the latest flicks for that year, such as, "Stakeout," "Can't Buy Me Love" and "Fatal Attraction." Many went to Coronado sports to support and cheer on the school, shopping at local malls trying to find the latest sales, and before we knew it, weekday nightlife was no longer here, it was time for the weekend. Over the weekend students went to football and basketball games, took weekend camping trips with friends. They hungout at local hangouts such as B.K. (Burger King) or Dick's Drive-Thru, spent time with the family but probility the most popular was to go to a friend's little get-together, of course just to socialize. The most unfavorable plans a student may have for the weekend is to do homework. Nightlife and weekends for many was the highlight of their high school years. What would we do without them?

Wow! Just Look! Coronado is raging with trendy fads and fashions. The styles of clothes says a lot about CHS. For the guys, printed T-shirts and Bermuda shorts seemed to stand out. Over-sized shirts and mini-skirts were popular with the girls this year. Tapered jeans caught on fast, for both guys and girls as well.

In the vehicle department, lowered Bugs and lowered trucks were very popular this year. Friday and Saturday nights at burger King was a favorite pastime for many Coronado students. These are just a few popular fads and fashions for the 87-88 year.

Plays show artistic creativity and cultivate many different explorations

By Melanie Ferber

So far this year the Coronado Performing Arts Department has put on two plays. The first, "The Good Doctor", was a collage of comic skits on topics ranging from old age to fatherly love. The majority of the play was narrated by a Russian author named Anton Chekhov, played by sophomore Robert Smith.

"I decided to get involved (in drama) right away because I believe the best way to learn is by doing," says junior Steve Shirie, who played Antosha (Chekhov when he was a boy). "It was a great experience working with such a large cast. You meet many people and learn many things that you may not pick up in a class. Basically it was so much fun, it's something I'll keep doing as long as possible!"

The second play, was a musical comedy from the 70's. Godspell is the story of Jesus Christ as seen through the eyes of a bunch of unemployed actors. The cast included a chorus of at least forty students from the advanced dance and acting classes.

"I selected these plays because 1) I respected the scripts, 2) I felt we can be challenged and handle the production demands, and 3) they will give C.H.S. students a chance to explore as many varieties of subject matter as possible," said Mr. James Newcomer who has been the drama teacher here at Coronado for 26 years.

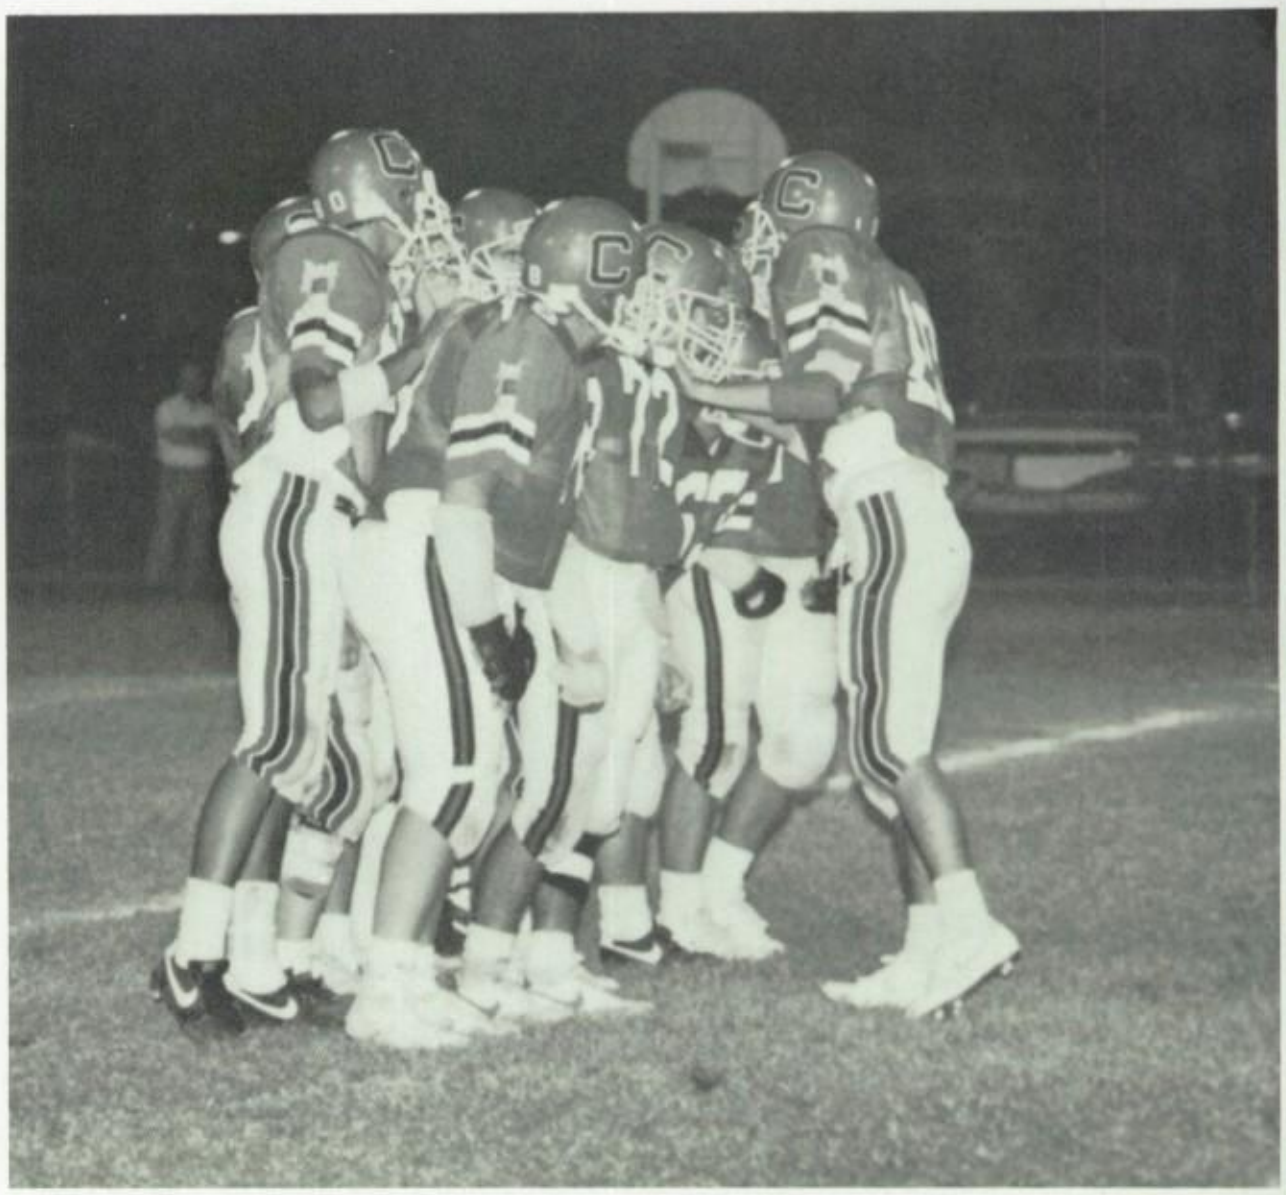
CAMPUS FILLS WITH CORONADO SPIRIT

By Angela Turnage

Homecoming week started out with a variety of lunch activities such as a limbo contest and a hot dog eating contest. Students also dressed up for Hawaiian day, Sweats day and Spirit day which took place throughout the Homecoming week. A "Pep Fest" was held on Homecoming day out on the field and was the largest pep assembly held this year. Such clubs as CHSazz, Cheer, Colorguard and the Coronado Marching Band performed on the field during the assembly. Sports team members were also introduced and the Color Shout was done once again with the sophomores taking first place over all for the rowdiest spirit that day. Homecoming week helped bring out a large amount of spirit and contributed to the great success of Homecoming night.



THE FOOTBALL TEAMS effort really paid off on Homecoming night. The Dons' were victorious.

HOMECOMING: A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

By Angela Turnage

Homecoming, as always, was one of the most outstanding events of the year. Much preparation went into this one special night so that it would be a night Coronado would never forget.

The night got off to a great start with the Dons bringing CHS a Homecoming victory over the Alhambra Lions. The football team was cheered on to the end by a crowd, full of parents, students, faculty and alumni.

During half-time the Homecoming King and Queen were announced and so was the winning class of the float competition.

The Junior Class was responsible for setting up the Homecoming dance, which turned out to be quite a success. Many couples strolled into the gym after the game to dance and have Homecoming pictures taken. For many the night seemed perfect and Homecoming was an event to remember.

Many events have happened this year, some good, some bad.

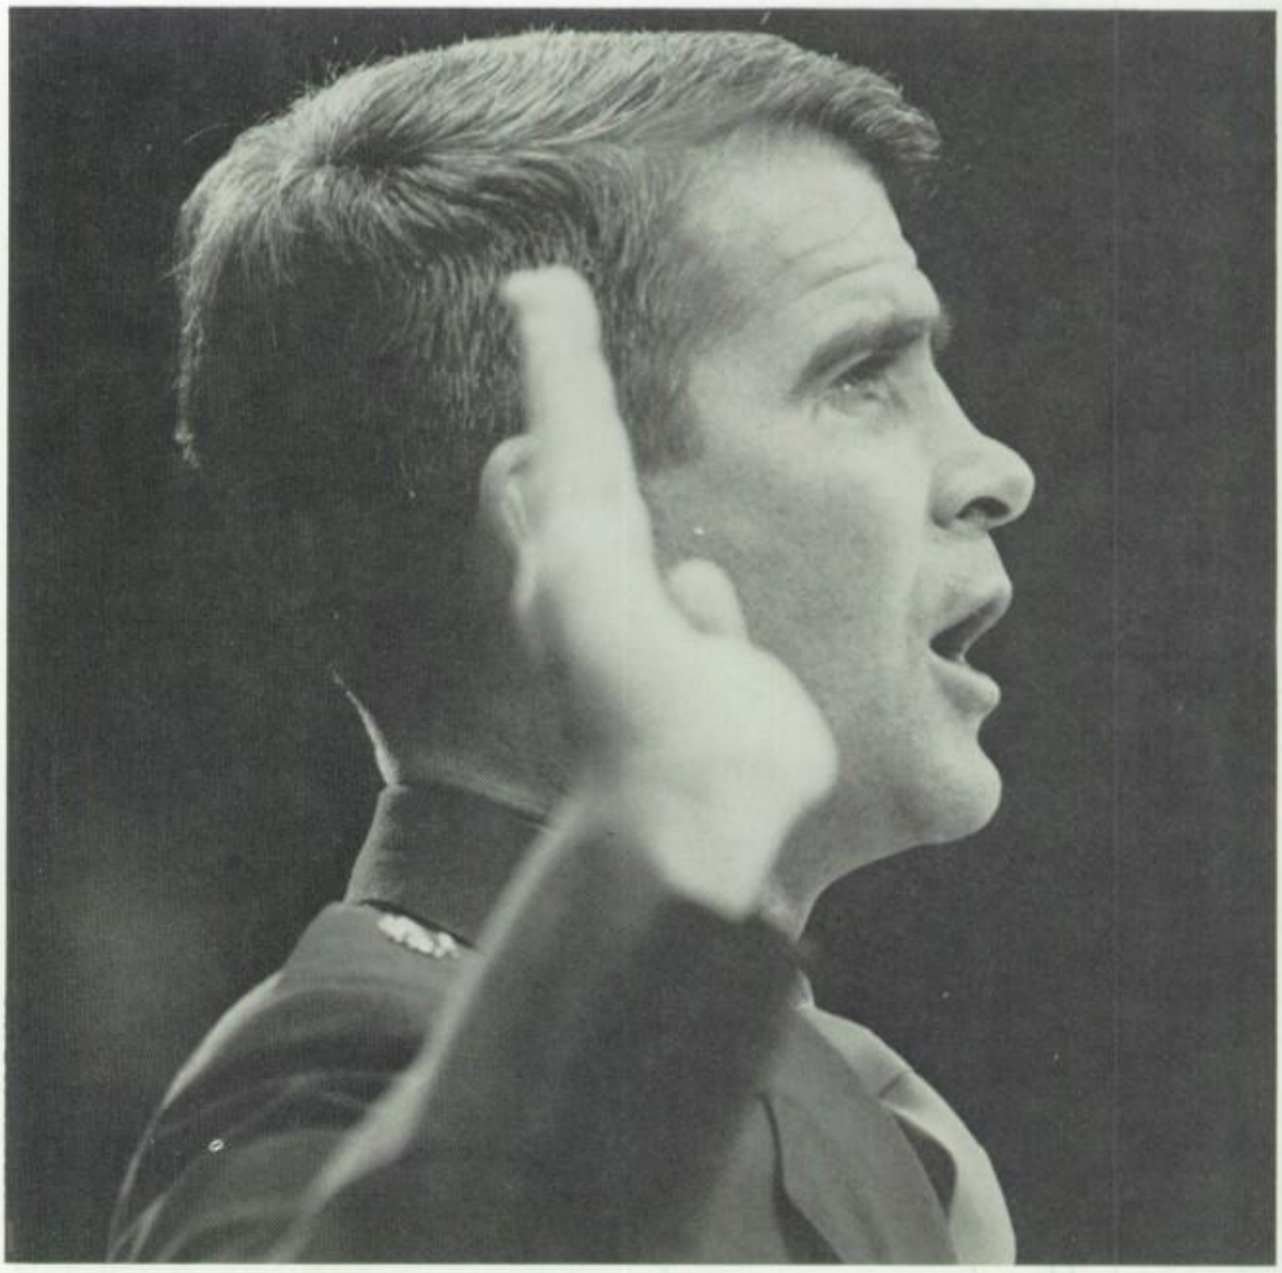
Dennis Conner, the man who lost the America's Cup in 1983, won it back this year. The Stars and Stripes completed a 4-0 sweep over Australia's Kookaburra III in the race that took place in Australia.

The Minnesota Twins celebrated their World Series victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Many were saddened by he death of Liberace, the Glittering showman and pianist, who died at his home in February at the age of 67. Jackie Gleason, the rotund "Great One" who starred in the tele-vision series "The Honeymooners," died in June at the age of 71. Fred Astaire, who epitomized Hollywood's elegance for 25 years, died of Pneumonia in June at the age of 88.

1987 was an election year, and in the beginning, there were twelve candidates. Governor Evan Mechan caused quite a controversy in Arizona politics. Senior, Dana Fortny stated, "If anything, the Mecham incident has made Arizona more politically aware, and realizing the importance of the voting process."

These are just a few of the many events that have taken place around the world in 1987.



MARINE LT. COL. Oliver. L North, was a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from arms sales to Iran. In testimony before the Iran-Contra hearings in Washington, North became somewhat of a celebrity.

IN THE SIX years since Americans first heard of a mysterious immunity-robbing disease from which no one recovers, AIDS has killed nearly 25,000 Americans, millions of dollars have poured into medical research and President Reagan has proclaimed the plague "Public Health Enemy No. 1."

The 1987 Coronado Graduation was held on the night of June 4. The ceremony took place on the football field with Erin McKallor, student body president, giving the opening speech. The 15 senior ACE members stood together one last time to sing "Friends." Shiela Byrd then gave the commencement address. The senior gift, which was the remaining money in the class account, was presented by Carla Jackson.

After the hour and ten minute ceremony, the graduates went to the 100 building to pick up their diplomas. There they were greeted by family and friends. Assistant Principal Tom Miller commented that the ceremony was, "Excellent! The best we've had since I've been here."

The 1987 Junior — Senior Prom was attended by 600 people at the Scottsdale Country Club and the theme was "The Crystal Ball." According to Junior Class President Nicole Olson everything went as planned. However, it did take a long time to find a place to hold the prom. It was the first year students had to sign contracts for responsibility of damage. Still, many students attended and enjoyed it just the same. Jason Lapointe and Carla Jackson were voted Trail King and Queen. Olson stated, "I think because of all the student and faculty support, the prom was such a success."

Administration

More than just food at lunch; new campus programs

By Sandra DelGreco

As modified open campus went into effect for its second year, other changes also took place. There was continuous success with the time-out program which was headed by Mr. Harold Pruitt.

One of the main concerns of principal, Dr. Ed Segrave was to encourage more students to stay on campus at lunch time. The gym was opened so that the students could play basketball or just stay out of the afternoon heat.

Along with working one on one with students and teachers, Mrs. Janeen Bailey and Mr. Don Butler, assistant principals, were active in the Fine Arts and Athletics Department.

Mr. Tom Miller, associate principal, was in charge of curriculum development, teacher evaluation and scheduling. "Each year we have as many schedule changes as students," stated Mr. Miller.

In his second year at CHS Assistant Principal Don Butler, was in charge of many school functions. Chairperson, for the athletic council, a member of Scottsdale District curriculum council, and coordinator for graduation activities, are only a few of his responsibilities.

According to Mrs. Janeen Bailey, the Parent on Campus program, received an enormous amount of good feed back from both teachers and parents.

Every year CHS loses teachers to retirement. The Administration is always trying to replace them with enthusiastic young teachers. This year we had seven new teachers added to our campus, according to Mr. Tom Miller.

The front office is difficult to keep running smoothly. It has a staff of many hard-workers, that consists of Betsy Parker, Frances Colbert, Eileen Reischmann, Geraldine Kirkhuff, Gwen Riggle, Pat Swenson, Mary Helen Connors, Diane Sylvester, and Paula Decker, who is a new employee in the attendance office.

There were many changes in the front office for instance, the remodeling and different location of the reception area, the relocation of teacher's mailboxes, and the new staff lounge.

"I enjoy meeting new people. This year we have a lot of new teacher's at Coronado. I enjoy working with all faculty and staff at Coronado, stated Mrs. Colbert.

Some of the other duties of the front office were to take care of the teachers mail announcements, handing transcripts and handling schedules for students. The front office was open from 7:15 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and there was always someone ready to help anytime someone needed help or had any questions to be answered.

"I found that the people in the front office we're very helpful to me when I had a question about my attendance and school records," stated Lonna R. Reis.

Guidance and foreign exchange

Counselors prepare students for college and life

By Melanie Ferber

"A counselor is a person who is specially trained to help you realize and develop the capabilities you have that make you the special person you are," said Mrs. Jean Bak, who has been a counselor at Coronado for four years. "To work with a core of students from freshman to senior year has been exciting for me since I am a 'senior' also. It allowed me to see the importance of good guiding, constant communication, and developing friendships. It's great!"

Counselors are a very important part of a student's high school career. They help students decide what classes to take, get involved in extra curricular activities and help solve any problems that students may have with teachers.

This year there are two foreign exchange students at Coronado. They are Odilia Festjens from Belgium, and Thage-Jorgensen Jaco from Portugal.

Students begin by contacting the people who have volunteer to house them. The students see how we, as Americans, live, some of our traditions, and how the American school system is set up.

"Foreign exchange gives Coronado students a look at people from other countries and opportunities to learn about their culture," says Mr. Tom Miller, who heads foreign exchange. "It gives the exchange student a chance to explore the American scene from the inside."

Library has many references, much information for students

By Tricia Hewitt

The library offers many things for the students. There were audio-video programs, magazines, equipment to use and lots of books, of course. Howard Guess was the Department Chairman, Mary Horne, Anita Melius, and Candy Whitlatch were the librarians.

Mr. Guess stated, "The library serves as a center or focal point for students to enhance what they have learned or studied in the classroom. We are here to serve the needs of the students and we try to do that."

The Scottsdale Police Department provided Coronado with Officer Scott Wells on campus two days a week. Officer Wells taught classes, gave presentations, and counseled students if they needed to talk to someone. He also gave out lots of advice.

"I hope my time at Coronado has taught students that police are not the mean, bad guys that kids think we are. I've always tried to be fair and friendly and to show them that cops can be fun. Being a police officer is a difficult job," stated Officer Wells.

The Steering Committee is a committee which prepares faculty and staff for the arrival of the North Central Evaluating Team, which comes every seven years. The Steering Committee includes faculty and staff, the committee has a faculty fund which gives $1300 worth of scholarships to seniors. This money in the fund is also given to charity for a faculty family member who has passed away. The Steering Committee welcomes any faculty or staff members to their meetings. This committee is here for them.

Bookstore

Bookstore has tough job issuing books

by Chris Fadley

Mrs. Miriam Wright, head of the bookstore, and her assistant, Mrs. Jeanne Cooper had a tough job at the beginning and the end of the school year. Teachers issued the books to the freshmen, sophomores and juniors while the seniors still had to pay for theirs. "Next year it will be easier because we can just give the books to the teachers," said Mrs. Wright. "But the books just don't last as long as they used to. The students don't take as good of care as they did when they paid for them".

The bookstore also collected and gave out money to the clubs and the student council. The money they gave to the students went towards candy and donuts for fund-raisers which went right back to the bookstore. "Most of the money or candy just disappears though," stated Mrs. Wright.

Foods and Nursing

New faces enhance CHS campus

By Andrea Raia and Julie Bacon

This year Coronado had a new food service manager, Mrs. Karen Britt. Along with Mrs. Britt, there are about 20 other cafeteria and snackbar servers and cooks. Many of them arrived at 6:30 a.m. and stayed until 5:00 p.m. preparing the food and kitchen. Every day, over 1,000 students passed through the different food lines. "We've organized the cold sandwiches into one line, so that helps. I do think they are going faster." This was Mrs. Britts opinion about the efficiency of the lines. How do the cooks know how much food to make? A record is kept of the quantities sold and they go by that. Seldom, was there any food remaining.

Coronado had a new face in the nurse's office this year. Mrs. Linda Krewson previously came from a hospital where she worked with cancer and AIDS patients. She commented, "I think Coronado has a lot of very friendly people." Mrs. Krewson likes to help students with health related problems, and in her spare time she has worked at summer camps with young children.

Mrs. Krewson said she hopes to remain here in the future, unless she decides to spend more time with her family.

Security/Maintenance

Security guards keep school campus safe

By Chris Fadley
Photos by Neil Shockner

The '87-88' school year security staff consisted of May Manthey, head of the security staff, and her assistants Marge Johnson, Steve Cox and Jim Ford. "Working with kids is fun," stated Mrs. Manthey.

They didn't single out a select group, they watched over everybody. "It makes the system work better," said Mrs. Manthey. It was much easier for the teachers to teach when the security kept the students out of the halls.

Mrs. Manthey thought that the modified campus was working "doubly" well this year because the students really didn't try to go off like they did last year.

This was Mrs. Manthey's tenth year here at Coronado and sixth year as head security guard. She added that if she saw anyone smoking, vandalizing or doing anything wrong, she would not hesitate to "bust" them.

The maintenance crew had a lot of responsibilities before, during and after school started. Mr. Steve Cowan, head of the department, and 14 others on the staff worked at school from 5 a.m. to 11 p.m. The Crew wanted to have the school clean and running smoothly. Cowan stated that the kids are definitely cooperating much more by throwing away their trash. The maintenance staff does everything from fixing the air conditioning to welding. "The job is for the kids," said Mr. Cowan. He also said that the construction on the school was on schedule and looked very promising.

English

English Department excels

By Kym Luther

This year the English department worked harder than ever to educate the students. Many teachers felt that attitudes of students were very good this year. Students were more interested in leaning than in past years.

The goals of all teachers included satisfying the writing requirements set by the school district and to continue improving the electives program for seniors. To help achieve these goals, the department explored the use of computers and word processors for instruction in reading and composition. These concepts proved very successful.

Lockers were moved out of the 100 building in order to cut down on the noise level in the building during class. "Having the lockers outside really helps the learning atmosphere by giving the students a better chance to concentrate and pay attention in class," one teacher commented.

Department head Richard Hughes stated, "The English Department is encouraged by the generally positive comments of former students who feel they received effective instruction in English while they were at Coronado."

Social studies

Classes help students participate in democratic society

By Veronica Thomas

One change in the Coronado Social Studies Department this year was the new computer center it received. The center was added to the media center and was used mostly for individualized work. Along with the computer center four new staff members were added, Mr. Mitch Von Gnechten, Mrs. Martha McDonald, Mrs. Pam Miller and Mr. Bruce Pierce who was replacing Ms. Dorothy Janca who was on sabbatical this year.

According to Mrs. Virginia Waterman, who has been the department head for eight years, Coronado has a strong Social Studies Department offering many electives as well as AP (Advanced Placement) History and Government. Waterman added that the teachers in the department are good at making each of the classes interesting and, "They are trying to enable students to better participate in a Demoncratic Society."

Math: Not a spectator sport

By Jason Bankey

"We believe that Mathematics is not a spectator sport, and success comes from hard work and a positive attitude," commented Math Department head, Mr. Dale Foote.

There were only a few changes this year, such as two new courses, two retired teachers, and four new ones. Mr. Bill Nack and Mr. Milt Christen both retired this year with two full time teachers Ms. Geebert and Mr. Naffziger, and two part time teachers Mr. Longo, and Ms. Reddy replacing them. The two new courses this year were another computer pascal class, and a traditional geometry class.

After taking either a Prognastic, Standard, or Honors test in the eighth grade, freshmen are faced with four tracks (levels) and a total of 19 different courses.

When asked how he thought the department was doing, Mr. Foote replied, "We feel we're doing an excellent job, our teachers are top notch, dedicated, and professional people."

Science

New teachers keep science classes interesting.

By Andrea Raia

Solving chemical equations, doing labs, and dissecting frogs, were some of the activities done in the science classes this year.

Classes offered this year ranged from Introduction to Physical Science to Anatomy.

Department head Phil Smith stated, "Students seem more eager to learn than in recent years."

Smith has been head of the department for about 10 years.

Smith felt that having newer and younger teachers in the past few years has helped to keep science interesting. Along with new teachers, come new ideas.

The four new computers have helped to store information too time consuming to record on paper.

Smith commented, "Now that we have eight computers we can pay more attention towards the working relationship that we as teachers feel important in the educational process of learning."

Foreign Language

Foreign language adds a flare to Coronado

By Lisa Eichenauer

The Foreign Language Department has undergone a lot of new changes. There was work going on for a facility master plan and a new building under construction for foreign language and Learning Skills Center. There will be two foreign language rooms, one of which will be a lab. There was a new office added for foreign language in the 400 building. Also, new German and Spanish programs were teaching the students conversation sooner.

The languages offered this year were German, Spanish and French. Most classes were full, showing that most students were hoping to become bilingual, but a few students may have taken the class for a cultural credit. Mr. Whitmer, a Spanish teacher, commented, "Unfortunately, no Spanish IV or French IV classes were offered this past year." Spanish was taught by Diane LaFalce, department chairman, Mr. David Whitmer and Mrs. Jo Bender. French classes were taught by Mrs. Marie Haradon, and German was taught by Mr. Bill Travnikoff for a second year.

Mrs. Haradon stated, "I'm glad that the French classes have new books and the lab is separated from the classroom."

This being LaFalce's second year as department chairman, she had some new goals for her students. These goals were "First, to have the students use the language they learn in class; second, to have the students become inspired to travel to a foreign country and use the language in conversation, and third, especially to have fun!"

Business

D.E. helps students get extra money and on the job training

By Sandy DelGreco
Photos by Bill Brown

Distributive Education is back after being out of CHS for four years. D.E. was offered to juniors and seniors for in class preparation and placing students in different employment fields which enabled them to get on-the-job training.

The students worked from 15 to 30 hours a week. Along with the experience they got, they also received at least minimum wages and three credit hours. Their in-class instruction was tied in with individual jobs.

Other programs which were offered in the Business Department were a shorthand course, more typing classes, micro-computers, accounting, and introduction to business class, and an electronic office class. These courses were taught by Mr. Paul Thornburgh, who is the head of the department, Mr. Jerry Smith, Mr. Herb Sherman, Mrs. Ginny Reinken and Ms. Julia Farley. In addition to the new programs, construction and room changes have added to the department.

Sophomore, Chris Stanton, a new student to Coronado, who worked with the new computers stated, "They use different programs and languages. The teacher also makes the class very interesting."

'Choices and Challenges' helps students with their futures

By Trica Hewitt

After teaching thirty years, Mr. Ron Wunderley still thinks more students should take Industrial Arts classes. The classes should be taken for college bound students, as well as the students looking for a trade after school. Industry is always looking for good auto mechanics, welders, carpenters, and those interested in construction.

"I think metals is a very good class, not just meeting people, but, learning new things about working with metal, and it's lots of fun while we are working," stated Senior Bruce Novak.

"Human relations is a class where you learn to understand and identify yourself, as well as the people around you, which can be helpful for a teenager trying to cope," stated Cathi McComb, junior. Coronado this past year had a very outstanding Home Economics Department. There were 11 classes to choose from, ranging from Foods I and II, Choices and Challenges to Child Development and World of Fashion. With the hard work of Mrs. Alice Williams, Mrs. Susie Tang, Mrs. Louise Mueller and Mrs. Carol Erwin. Coronado students have been able to widen their perspectives for future careers.

Learning Resource Center

L.R.C.: meets individual needs, develops learning skills

By Julie Bacon

L.R.C. (Learning Resource Center) is an educational setting where students' academic and school adjustment needs are taught by teachers with modified methods and materials. Student's individual learning problems were diagnosed by the teacher and school psychologist. Then, methods were developed on ways to work with the students and their individual needs.

"The main focus is to help students realize their academic and social strengths," commented Mrs. Cindy Amerson, department chairman. Some of the areas the teachers worked on with the students were reading, math, spelling, handwriting, language, socialization and career awareness. L.R.C. teachers worked closely with mainstream teachers for the benefit of students at Coronado. Students may be referred to L.R.C. placement by a teacher, parent, or themselves.

Driver's Ed./Indian Ed

Indian Education: a program with pride and heritage

By Tricia Hewitt and Chris Fadley

Students take Driver's Education for various reasons. The main reason is to learn the proper way to handle a car and to learn safe driving habits. Another reason is to be able to get an insurance discount. Students learn basic driving techniques from textbooks, driving simulators and from watching films of actual accidents.

Driver's Education teacher, Mr. Jim Poplawski stated, "Be a good, safe driver."

The Indian Education served the Indian student community. They helped the students with the social services, finances, tutoring and counseling. The students appreciated the help they received from the head of the department, Ms. Rosa Munz. "With the right help they could be very successful. They need to be more proud of their heritage," said Ms. Munz.

This was the 11th year of the Indian Education and it's still doing very well for it's members. The government gives money for class fees and books. The parent committee is trying to get the students into social projects.

Arts and Crafts

Crafty People = 100% Talent

By Kym Luther
Photos by Neil Shockner

The belief of Arts and Crafts teachers is that every student can succeed by simply following directions and making an effort. The teachers followed this belief in encouraging the students to discover their own ability.

Some of the projects in Crafts were etched and inlaid mirrors, pottery, jewelry, silk screen t-shirts, and "Lost Wax" casting. Students found these projects, among others, very interesting and found themselves looking forward to Crafts class.

Mrs. Marie Frazier and Mr. Parsons were the teachers who taught crafts and Mr. Sid Travis taught Art. Combined, the three teachers helped the students to find the talent they had within themselves.

Mrs. Frazier stated, "Coronado has one of the finest visual arts departments in the state. The teachers have a positive attitude and students soon discover that talent is something that grows with practice."

Physical education

Sports of all sorts

By Jay Robinson

Physical Education at Coronado can be challenging as well as fun. P.E. was a requirement this year as in the past years. Head of the Physical Education Department, Coach Roy Coppinger stated, "We are hoping to see a two year PE requirement." This would mean a student must take two years of Physical Education instead of one.

Almost every sport is played in a regular two semester PE class, from football to badminton. Playing all of these sports teaches students the rules and fundamentals of the various sports.

Coach Coppinger feels that the athletic ability of students has improved since physical education was made a requirement in the middle schools. Any students interested in playing sports, but who do not have a P.E. class can play intramurals with other Coronado students. Physical education is a great way to stay in shape and have a lot of fun with fellow Coronado students.

Life Skills Center

Program expands, students learn valuable skills

By Sue Schoenfeld

"We learn how to read a map and how to get from one place to another or connect with a bus," stated Kim Berry, junior, about the Social Economics and Math class. The Life Skills Center consists of smaller classes with material adapted to individual students needs.

Students must pass the regular requirements in order to graduate. The program was "a big success," said Mrs. Sharon Guastella, department chairman.

The program began at Coronado two years ago. The purpose of L.S.C. is to help make students independent.

The building on the east side of the campus became the new Independent Living Skills classroom for Community Ed. students. "It also has small classrooms for the speech, hearing, and vision teachers," added Mrs. Guastella.

Jags and Vo-Tech

Classes help students prepare for their future

By Melanie Ferber

Jobs for Arizona Graduates, JAGS, is a constructive class for seniors to take. It makes it easier for them when they leave high school and enter the job world. JAGS gives students a chance to see the many career choices available.

"JAGS gets the student ready for the outside world," said Mrs. Roberta Gallagher, who teaches JAGS, "It gives them self-confidence, the ability to make decisions, and helps them get, keep, and advance on a job."

Vo-tech, a three-hour-a-day course, offers Coronado students many opportunities. Along with three credits, students receive practical career training. This gives them a chance to experiment in many different career fields. Some of the subjects available are Advertising Art, Electronics, Aerospace, and Cosmotology. Vo-tech has gained popularity since it was first offered in 1974.

"Vo-tech teaches students to apply academics in marketable skills and in the work place," stated Mrs. Carol Ericson, who has been the principal of Vo-tech at Scottsdale High School for five years, and is also a registered nurse. "The youth groups in Vo-tech help teach responsibility, leadership, and how to obtain and retain a job."

Seniors aim for future careers

This was the 17th year for the HERO program at Coronado. HERO (Home Economic Related Occupations) was started by Mrs. Alice Williams, who still sponsors the organization.

"HERO is an exciting experience that students will cherish forever," stated Mrs. Williams. The club/class was for seniors who were interested in a career in home economics. Students earned three credits for the program: one for the club, one for the class, and one for their job experience outside of school. In order to get credit for the job, students had to work 15 hours a week. The jobs the students had were set up by the teacher or the student.

The class met second hour everyday and they discussed jobs and other related subjects. The club met Fridays, during second hour. For the club meetings, all members had to wear the required blue and gray uniform which they also wore to their conventions during the year. This year HERO had 24 members, whose future career plans ranged from food service to clothing sales.

Fine arts

Getting fired up

By Jay Robinson

Arts, crafts, dance, drama and CHS amounts to a great 87-88 year in the Fine Arts Department. "I love my job teaching Crafts. Coronado is my favorite school, and high school students are my favorite to teach," stated Mrs. Marie Frazier, head of the Fine Arts Department.

The Fine Arts Department is growing, by 1990, CHS will have a new music complex, and Visual Arts will be remodeled. Dance and Theater Arts will be in new expanded areas as well. Computer Arts and Photography, as well as Art Appreciation will be offered after the changes are made. The auditorium will also be refurbished with new curtains and a computerized light board.

All of the courses within the Fine Arts program are helpful academically. Frazier also stated, "All of the Arts stress creativity and self expression, which develops parts of the brain that may never be used in academic classes." It's been another great year of arts, crafts, dance, drama, and a plethora of good times for the 87-88 Coronado Fine Arts Department.

Student Council presides over activities

By Sue Schoenfeld

"I would consider the year successful when I reach these objectives: 1) To establish a good repore between student council and faculty, 2) To give students a chance to express themselves, openly restoring students' rights 3) To make the student council an active and powerful voice in campus affairs, 4) To represent the student body," stated student body President, Laurie Fitch.

The class consisted of seven student body officers, the four class Presidents, two representatives from each class and a foreign exchange student.

To get the year off to a flying start was the Howdy Hop. Next on the agenda was Homecoming, the theme of which was "Don Ho."

The student body officers for the '88 year were as followed: President Laurie Fitch, Vice President Nicole Olson, Corresponding Secretary Rhonda Scott, Recording Secretary Lisa Willis, Treasurer Cameron Bair and Student Advisors Joanna Chen and Sandra Van Paris.

Clubs teach about other cultures

By Melanie Ferber

The Caramba club was the most popular language club on Coronado's campus. Ms. Diane LaFalse sponsored the Caramba club, which was started in 1979. A trip to Mexico gave the members a chance to practice Spanish and get a taste of the Hispanic culture.

"I feel the Caramba club is a good way to meet fun and interesting people," said Veronica Thomas, who is a member of Caramba. "I"m looking forward to the Mexico trip."

Students in the German club learn how to use German in everyday situations. For instance; ordering food, getting directions, and buying things. The club went to German restaurants and ordered their meals entirely in German. This club was sponsored by Mr. William Travnikoff.

"The German club offers fun and a chance to get closer to other countries," said junior Laura Bohlman. "I've experienced different cultures and the way other people live."

The French club is called Les Copains. Early this year they sold gummy bears on campus to raise money. The main objective was to give it's members an extra chance to practice French and travel if possible.

Yearbook blazing the trail

By Angela Turnage

The Coronado Trail Yearbook Staff was composed of many dedicated and hard-working students.

The staff consisted of 10 editors, eight staffers, seven photographers, three teacher assistants, and one advisor. This past year the staff members put forth an extra effort to work more as a team than individually. The effort really paid off and made yearbook production a smoother process.

Yearbook, a club and a class, was open to juniors and seniors. The staff took part in car washes, garage sales and candy sales to raise money for added yearbook features. Most of the actual work done on the yearbook was done in class, during 5th hour. There were also workdays, work-weekends, and yearbook meetings so that deadlines could be met. Some of the staff members attended summer camp, college seminars and out-of-state conventions to learn more about successful yearbook production.

Because of the yearbook staff's hard work and effort, one can easily see why the finished product was considered hot stuff!

Computers enhance Explorer; add new skills

By Jason Bankey

"This year looks awesome!!" stated Editor-In-Chief Dana Fortney, "the staff is great and they are willing to work," she added. With eight returning staffers, and six new ones the Explorer got off to a good start. The editors were most impressed with the new staffers and how they caught on, took their responsibilities, and made their deadlines. All in all, major improvements were made.

The exciting news this year were the two new Macintosh computers the staff received. "This year was very exciting for us because we have received new computers to work with. This helped us save lots of money every issue since the editors were able to typeset and paste-up their own layouts. This was a first for us," commented Explorer advisor Ms. Faith Duff.

Dana's main goal this year was to make the Explorer, "Something that represents the student body as a whole, and something that they realize as their priviledge."

Changes bring new, hot demensions

By Veronica Thomas
and Melissa Brown

The photography department went through many changes this year including a new organizational system developed by Photo Editor Melissa Brown.

There were nine photographers and each were tested or quizzed on the different areas of photo production. They were also required to fill out photo request forms with the staffers. This helped open communication between staffers and photographers as well as helping staffers get the types of photos they preferred for their pages.

The changes also affected the photographers attitudes and opinions on the photo production. According to Melissa Brown the best thing about being a photographer is, "the feeling of accomplishment you get in helping put the yearbook together." New photographer Steve Saverson stated, "Learning what actually goes into developing and printing film," is most interesting.

Most of the photographers did agree on the fact that meeting various people was a great part of working on the staff.

Dedication and hard work pay off

By Veronica Thoams

There were 160 members in this years marching band, with Wade Nelson and Sereana Bird as the Drum Majors. The band has been directed by Mr. Ed Meier for the past six years. Meier also picks out the music the band will perform. This years' performance was "John Barnes Chance Portrait."

Some changes for the band this year included the change of uniform for the colorguard, and the Music Bowl which took the band to an area they had not been to yet, the San Diego area. The Drumline took top honors and Mr. Meier received a special honor for effort in band. The band also took four top honors at an NAU invational.

To accomplish the great performances, the members of the marching band had to put forth much effort, dedication and hard work. The band practiced two hours every morning at school and they also met one evening a week for two hours.

Varsity Band and Chorus . . .

By Andrea Raia

This year Varsity Band had 45 members, all of which were in Marching Band also. The class was taught by Mr. Ed Meier, the Marching Band instructor who announced that this was to be his last year at CHS.

Meier felt this class helped students improve their musical abilities. Each rehearsal included technical work on scales and sight reading. They also covered many finer points on interpretation.

This class also helped students plan for the future. It involved a great amount of coordination, self-discipline, and cooperation. Meier felt that these are very valuable skills to build.

Varsity Chorus consisted of approximately 40 members.

They sang a variety of songs from old folk tales to the Beach Boys and music from Fame.

Chorus performed at the silent auction in November, and at the East Thunderbird Square during Christmas season. They also performed one or two concerts in the spring and District Choral Festival in April.

Advanced Choral Ensemble which had 18 members this year, performed at many community functions.

Scottsdale Center for the Arts, Nursing Homes, Retirement Centers, and Sister City Program were just a few of the places A.C.E. appeared this year. A.C.E. also adopted two families for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

A.C.E. had a very intensive performance schedule. They had performances at: Hyatt Regency, International Christmas Program, sang at Homecoming, Saks 5th Ave., Supai Middle School, Fountain Hills Rotary, other performances throughout December.

A.C.E. had a bigger turnout for tryouts this year than in past years. Ms. Leighanne Simmers feels that A.C.E. presents many opportunities to students who are going to pursue a professional singing career in the future.

Thespians excel in dramatics

By Julie Bacon
and Lisa Eichenauer

The International Thespian Society was once again an active club for many students at Coronado. Thespian Troupe 1557 was established in 1963 for actors and actresses who showed excellence in dramatic endeavors.

"It's quite an honor to be president of such an organization," commented member Jim Boyd.

This year, Thespians numbered approximately 30 members, including officers. The group held meetings, usually during lunch or after school, on Thursdays. Activities for the year were discussed, along with fund-raising ideas and field trip possibilities.

An annual event the club has become known for is the haunted house at Eldorado Park every Halloween.

"Everyone was afraid the haunted house wouldn't be able to get done this year and it probably wouldn't have if there wasn't any cooperation and a lot of hard work," stated C.C.C. representative Gina Feletar.

Acceptance into Thespians is based on a point system. Students receive points for participating in theater oriented activities, such as plays and club fund-raisers.

Close up main goal: Washington, D.C.

"Close Up is relaxing with other students in Washington's unique social setting, and learning what it means to be an American," stated Don Nordlund, the sponsor of Close Up.

This past year in the club there were three main officers, Nancy Sheldon, as the president and Dawn Trepanier and Veronica Thomas as the signers.

"The best thing about being in the club is meeting all of the different people and finding out all of the new ideas surfaced," commented Veronica Thomas.

The main event that happens in Close Up is that money is raised to make it possible for many students to take a week-long trip to Washington D.C.

Another club that was held on campus was CAO, which was held solely for the purpose of going to see and review movies that came out over the year. CAO stands for Cinema Arts Organization, and it's sponsor for the last two years has been Mr. Kevin McGirr. The president of the club was Lee Hollingsworth and the vice president was Jennifer Marshall. Mr. McGirr gave them a place to hold their meetings and the freedom to air their opinions.

Criada was once again one of the largest clubs on campus composed of 36 members at the beginning of the year. The number later increased after more members were accepted.

Like years past, Criada put on the annual Sweetheart Prom. They also helped the community by way of the bi-annual blood drives adopting families during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays and giving a Christmas party for the less fortunate children at Crocket Elementary School in South Phoenix.

"It really makes me think more about other people and how I can help them," said Cindy Mills, a senior and a two year member, "Since I joined Criada, everybody is there to help and I feel that I'm there to help them if they need my help."

Last year Criada was commissioned by Dr. Ed Segrave to take care of the 200 building. When graffiti needed to be washed off or painted over, Criada was the club that did the job.

Another new community project was the 10k walk-a-thon at Eldorado park. Students took pledges and the proceeds went to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

Clubs Help Community

By Amy Skinner

Key Club is an international oganization that supports the community and tries to help out in as many ways as possible. The main objective of the club is to help out where help is needed to fill the empty voids. Some of the activities that they participated in were dances, volleyball games and fund-raisers.

"The one thing I like about the club is that all of the kids are unselfish, they don't get anything out of it, they do it for the good and welfare of others," stated advisor Bruce Pierce.

Another service club on campus this past year was Civitan. Civitan is a nationwide club that through a number of fund-raisers make it possible to donate money to the needy children of the March of Dimes.

"We are looking for kids who care about their fellow man who happens to be less fortunate than themselves," stated sponsor Gene Privett.

The Trap and Skeet club was organized by Dennis Bailey once again this year. The main objective was to go to a shooting range and learn the correct way to use guns and firearms. Some of the activities that they participated in were going against teams from other schools, and joining leagues in the Valley.

"I feel that CHSazz has done an outstanding job this year. All of the girls have been very co-operative and helpful. I think that through all of our ups and downs, we have become very close. We are ready to tackle anything that comes our way!" stated CHSazz president, Karis Foote.

Performing at the Homecoming assembly, Open House and at Camelview Plaza Mall were only a few of their activities; they also sponsored and judged the annual Lip-Sync competition. Sponsoring the Lip-Sync is only one of many functions they were involved in. They also sponsored a banquet at the end of the year, which presented awards for Dancer of the Year, and for Most Improved Dancer. These awards were not only for CHSazz members, but also included other students who have taken dance classes.

CHSazz, sponsored by Mrs. Irma Griffin, was very active out of school, they were featured at the District Dance Festival and they competed at the Regional Dance Competition at Phoenix College. They have also been honored at CHS for being Club of the Year for two years in a row.

NHS, Announcers, Chant Be involved, Be informed

It was 2:30 p.m., spring of 1987, one could feel the excitement in the air. One by one each student stepped up to the microphone and gave their version of the KCHS Morning News Announcements. Nicole Olson and Lisa Willis were the only two returning announcers. "Announcements are very important to everyone at Coronado, because to be involved they have to be informed," stated President Lisa Willis.

The National Honor Society worked to bring the achievements of its members to the attention of colleges, classmates, parents and the community by informing students of academically oriented scholarships. NHS was trying to rebuild the foundation and become a larger, more influential club.

Many Indian tribes are represented at CHS in the CHANT club; the Yaquies from Tucson, Navajos from Northern Arizona, the Apaches and the Choctaws. Powwow, which was attended by some students, was a two day recreational activity, that had different cultures showing their dances, and selling food and jewelry in booths. Along with going to out-of-school activities, CHANT visited the Heard Museum, had fund-raisers and also sold ethnic food.

The Buddies club was the service club that catered to some of the needs of Coronado's special education students.

As one of their activities, members attended football games with their buddies.

"It's lots of fun going to the games with them because they get more excited than anyone else," commented Senior Jesi Anderson, "They are an inspiration because they have so much school spirit."

Another one of their major activities was the annual Halloween dance.

"It was really fun helping out with the dance," said Sophomore Bertha Velarde, "The music was easy for everyone to dance to and the kids had lots of fun."

The Buddies club was also a way to meet people.

"The meetings are lots of fun and you get to know everyone really well," stated V.P. Billi Jo Thielmann.

"Being in Buddies helped me to make very special friends of people I otherwise would never have met," added President Lisa McDonald.

This year's sponsors were Mrs. Bell, Mr. Gilbertsen, Mrs. Soderberg, and the Interact Club of Coronado.

New club wins first competition

By Juan Valarde

Interact is relatively new on campus. Although it is only one year old, the club ran strong.

Interact, like some other clubs was sponsored by two teachers, Mrs. Chris Bell and Mrs. Louise Healey. However, it was unique in the fact that it was also sponsored by the Scottsdale Papago Rotary Club.

"Our main purpose is to help the school and community, and to reach international understanding," said President Jesi Anderson.

One major on-campus project for Interact was to sponsor the Buddies Club. Members attended the Buddies Club meetings and helped put on their annual Halloween dance.

Interacters showed their enthusiasm and school spirit by winning the very first Homecoming Banner competition.

Last year some of the members went up to Camp Geronimo to help make repaires on the Boy Scout cabins.

"The work was hard but it was lots of fun," commented Senior Melissa Brown.

"It was really fun, I think everyone should go through it at least once in their high school career," responded Junior Sue Schoenfeld when asked how she felt about initiations.

Clubs help develop skills

By Veronica Thomas

Speech and Debate was an on campus club whose main purpose was getting students to participate in AIA sponsored speech tournaments. The tournaments were held on weekends, approximately 10 times during the year. Each student would select a topic of debate. The two types of debate were Lincoln Douglass, or one person debate, and tradtional team debate.

Some colleges give scholarships to excellent or top speakers, so speech and debate was a good preparation. The sponsor, Mrs. Mary King stated that, "It's excellent training for the future."

Mr. Ron Rossman was the sponsor of the campus auto club or AIASA. The AIASA helped students develop team work and leadership skills as well as building self esteem. The five class officers were Rick McFarland, Josh Dykes, Mike Lain, Beryl Engelby and Arik Grumbien. The club also did fund-raisers throughout the year.

The purpose of the Chess club was to encourage the learning and playing of chess. The club was sponsored by Mr. Jesse Pogue and has been at Coronado for 16 years.

The purpose of AIASA is to allow students to work on cars and learn as much as possible.

This year there were 12 girls on the line. Junior Robin Daily was the captain. Juniors Michelle Skaates and Kelly Parillo were section leaders, senior Alicia Hill and Chrissa Sleppy were co-section leaders.

Miss Liza Malchiodi was a new dance instructor for the Donettes. She helped Mr. Ed Meier train the girls until they knew their routines perfectly.

"The Donettes were hot this year, they added a lot of flare to the band, and are fun to watch," stated junior Nancy Sheldon.

KEEPING THE SPIRIT ALIVE

By Andrea Raia

"What-about-our-color-shout," was a popular cheer heard by the Varsity cheer line to arouse class spirit at Pep Assemblies.

The Varsity cheer line consisted of 10 girls who practiced every day at 6:15.

The commitment these girls had to CHS was tremendous. They kept the spirit of the classes high as well as supported the teams throughout the year.

The Junior Varsity Consisted of eight girls, who added a lot of spirit to CHS and worked very well together.

Both of the lines attended summer camps to perfect their skills and compete against other schools. They both were awarded superior ratings.

Overall the CHS cheerleaders worked long and hard to keep the spirit of the Dons alive!

This year the color guard consisted of the Donettes and the silks. Practice for them was held every morning during zero and first hours. They also had other practices on Tuesday evenings.

The purpose of the color guard was to perform with the band during the halftime shows at the football games. Also, other performances the color guard participated in were the competitions. They also aided in doing the fight song at pep assemblies.

"It's a great feeling to be the best in the state and to know you are number one," said donette Kelly Parillo.

The instructors were Liza Malchotti and Sandy Harris. Their main objective was to make up the routines and to teach them to the girls.

Matmaids was started by Mr. Keith Plummer. It's purpose was to keep score and time for gymnastics, wrestling and track. It is now used exclusively for Coronados wrestling team.

The sponsor for Matmaids is Coach Randy Bishop who is also the varsity wrestling coach. The 1987-88 officers are: president- Sandra Van Paris, vice president/secretary- Dana Fortney.

This year 34 girls attended the first meeting on October 28. From those 34 girls, eight new girls were chosen to join the returning Matmaids.

To become a matmaid, the girls must come to the meetings, learn how to score and time matches, and pass a test on what they've learned.

INJURIES PLAGUE FOOTBALL SEASON

By Chris Fadley

The football season didn't start off as well as they'd hoped. The Dons were 0-4 along with being shut out two of the four games. The Dons showed improvement for the rest of the year. They finished up at 3-7.

"We had too few returning seniors and too many injuries," stated Coach Joe Corte. The highlight of the year though was the come from behind win for the Homecoming game against Alhambra.

"I thought this year was a lot different from J.V. This season was fun and productive, even though we didn't do so well. I just hope that next year we have an awesome team due to all of our returners," stated Junior Mike DePinto.

Not only was the Dons lack of experience the fault of a bad season, but they had the toughest schedule they've had in years, playing six of the top ten teams in the state. Coach Corte commented, "The team lacked speed for big plays which really hurt the Dons." He went on to say, "This team had the most unity I've seen in a long time, which in the long run will turn into something. Most of the Dons will return next year and hope for a good season."

The graduating seniors Tom Star, Bill Paynter, Tom Walden, Brian Corte, Adam Talbot, Dale Moser, Cameron Bair and Andy Stacy wish the juniors good luck.

Some of the Don's injuries were: Jim Murray and Andy Stacy both suffered broken legs. Five players were sidelined with broken wrists. Tom Trickel sat out the season with a broken ankle. There were also other minor injuries that plagued the Dons throughout the year.

"We should have beat Maryvale," said Junior Varsity Coach Chris Colville. "We were real close."

Although the season started with a loss, the J.V. team improved and ended with a winning season. This was achieved with much teamwork and a strong running game.

"One of the toughest teams we played was Saguaro, Colville added, "Although we were the first team to score against them, they blew us out in second half."

The Freshman team did not do as well as expected. With a losing record of 1-7, the team still found the strength to show their sportsmanship.

Both coaches agreed that if the teams keep up the good work, next year's teams will do great.

REACHING FOR VICTORY

By Veronica Thomas

The Coronado swimming team practiced everyday after school at Eldorado pool. The practices were approximately an hour and a half long. Coach Paul Thornburgh has been coaching for the past 20 years.

This years team was made up of 15 boys, with six as returning swimmers and 21 girls, with nine as returning swimmers.

According to Thornburgh among the stronger swimmers were Jay Smith, Neil Guest, Dawn Trapanier, Megan Carbone, Jason Richards and Jodie McGrigor.

"The team was really inexperienced, but the underclassmen showed much potential," said captain Jodie McGrigor. "If everyone works hard over the summer the team would be much stronger."

This years badminton team started off with eight returning players and eight new players.

Even though half of the team was new, they still showed an enormous amount of potential. Their record was 7-5.

This year at state CHS was represented in doubles by JoAnn Benavidez and Jessie Seibel. While the number one Varsity player Amy Mills, played singles.

At their award banquet, Amy Mills received an award for being a third year player, while Cosima Barret and Sandy Del Greco received awards for being the most improved players. "Even though the season just ended, I'm really anxious to start working on next years strategies," stated Junior Sandy Del Greco.

"Although we didn't win very many games, it was a fun season," stated Varsity volleyball player Becky Boba.

Starting out the season with only one Varsity returning player, the team had a challenging season. Playing against Carl Hayden, was felt to be their best game. They really had their offense going, and one of their players had made 13 kills in that specific game.

Practices were held after school from 3:30 to 6:00, players were also in the weightroom working out two times a week.

"It was a very closeknit team, we always strived to improve our game," stated one of the volleyball players.

"We should have done better than what the record showed. Most of the girls had never played before, therefore it was a learning season," stated Coach Jani Jenkins.

Ten girls, all sophomores, made up the Junior Varsity team whose record was 1 and 6. This was the third consecutive year that Jenkins coached the J.V. volleyball team.

Practices were held everyday after school and once the season started, they were only held three days a week, with matches on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Doug Hoffman returned for the second year to coach the girls freshman team which consisted of eight players. They ended the season with 6 wins and 5 losses.

RANKS HIGH

By Cindy Mills

This year's Cross Country team was full of adventure. There were 8 girls 12 boys, and two coaches. They were coached by Mr. Dave Archibald and Mr. Bruce Pierce.

They had a very successful season. The boys were 2nd in Division 13-3, and the girls were 5th in Division 6-6.

"A novel could be written about all the things we did this season," commented Coach Archibald.

YOUNG, BUT VERY TALENTED.

By Ron Amodia
and Kym Luther

This year's golf team was young but very talented. Led by Senior transfer Ben Weir, the Dons won 14 games and tied two out of 19. "The team spent many hours practicing after school and on their own time to prepare for matches," stated Coach Gene Privett. The team placed 4th in Division and Ben Weir placed 1st in Divisionals and 6th in state, Weir led the Dons in scoring with a 35.5 stroke average. "These kids worked as hard on their game as any team that I have ever coached."

"The team played on two golf courses, SCC and Pima, and we are looking forward to a fine season next year," commented Coach Privett.

TEAMS HAVE SPIRIT, PRIDE

By Veronica Thomas

There were six girls varsity tennis team members and six JV team members with three alternates. The teams were coached by Robin Baniki and the team manager was Barbara Gargarta.

The boys tennis teams were coached by Karl Woodman. Practices were held from 2:30 to 4:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays and from 3:00 to 4:30 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The lead players on the girls' teams were Debbie Mahom, Megan Widdup and Lisa Gilligan.

"Our team spirit is great," stated Odie Festjens, "the spirit we have makes competition fun." Saguaro was thought to be the team's toughest competition, but they hoped their enthusiasm and love for competition would pay off.

NEW COURTS FOR FRESHMEN

By Lisa Eichenauer

This years' freshmen tennis teams started off with brand new courts.

"The new courts were excellent to the players. We had the best ones around. All opponents appreciated our courts. As well as visiting coaches," commented freshmen girls' tennis coach Mrs. MacDonald.

Overall the girls and boys had good seasons. The girls' team had 14 players and the boys' team had five. Both teams put all their effort and strength, into their matches.

"Our tennis team worked extremely hard, yet had a lot of fun. We also had great compatibility along with team spirit which made us 'elite,'" stated Freshman Shelly Cole.

TEAM AIMS FOR IMPROVEMENT

By Melanie Ferber and Veronica Thomas

This year's soccer team members were Stephan Granzow, Greg Anderson, Chris Parrish, Tracey Felton, Keath Blatt, Steve Wolff, Kevin Hearne, Rick Rose, Jon Taschner, Castoria Chad, Jason Rose, Mark Miller and Jason Foster.

The coach was Mr. David Whitmer, who has been coaching here at Coronado for three years. "I learned how to play soccer in Central America, not by playing, but by watching," said Whitmer. "I became the soccer coach because I was told that I was the most qualified one on campus."

"I think that the guys (and girls) on the team are very nice, they're young and inexperienced, but have tremendous potential."

STUDENTS HAVE GOOD ATTITUDE

by Tricia Hewitt
and Juan Velarde

Special Olympics was an organization involving mentally handicapped students. They participated in athletic events throughout the year. There were 45 to 50 students included in the Olympics. This special organization involved seven different events, seven to 10 times a year. These events were, county and state swim meets, bowling tournaments, and track and field. Downhill and cross country skiing, and ice skating were winter games played in Flagstaff.

Ms. Cathy Pontius, sponsor, commented, "The students have a real good attitude and they are very coachable. They have a good time no matter what place they come in."

This year's varsity Softball team had a rough struggle to overcome obstacles. Junior Angie Dodson said, "We started out well but we lost confidence in ourselves." As the season progressed, the team pulled together and fell one game short of making the playoffs.

The returning players were Holly Vitello, Terri Scholin and Debbie Garner. Senior Holly Vitello hit six homeruns and batted over .400. Freshman Lauren Kennedy and Senior Terri Scholin did outstanding jobs along with first baseman Cosima Barrett.

"We had a young team this year and I was pleased with our improvement, and I look forward to a brighter future and winning season," commented Coach Poole.

TEAMS SPARK ENTHUSIASM

This year's Junior Varsity and Freshman softball teams began practice in November. All the girls who tried out made the Freshman team. As for the J.V. tryouts, the team ended up with 9 to 15 players from last year's Freshman team.

The teams' records weren't outstanding, but hope to be better next year. Both teams' goals were to improve the individual skills for each player to enhance the teams performances. The J.V. team encountered some problems with pitching and catching. Both softball teams lacked unity in playing.

"This year was a great group of girls with a lot of enthusiasm and desire to improve their skills," stated Freshman softball coach Mrs. MacDonald.

INCONSISTENCY HURTS DONS

By Julie Bacon and
Jay Robinson

At the start of the Don's season they were facing some of the toughest teams; playing league games against five of the top 10 ranked teams. They came on strong, earning a victory in the first two non-league games they played. Through the rest of the season, the Dons worked hard and battled until the end. Yet, inconsistency disrupted the team's overall performance.

"Even though we didn't win a lot of our games, I thought we played well as a team," said Senior Dee Perry.

A first this year, was the start of the three-point shot being used in high school basketball. Varsity Coach Herb Sherman stated about the ruling, "It was a novelty at first, but now it's acceptable as something that can be used, but it's not the ultimate."

have problems early in season

The freshmen and J.V. teams both encountered problems early in the season. The freshmen had only about 15 people try out. The freshmen also had problems dealing with the lack of practice facilities and conflicts with evening practices in the gym. They received good play from guard Brian Baltzell who aided them in their two victories over Trever Browne at Trever Browne. The frosh had to start practice November 16 outside on the courts. "This group of freshmen really get along well together," stated coach Jack Wesolowski. He went on to say, "They are a very coachable group, who always give it their best." The J.V. also had problems with playing together as a team. Coach Colville said that their attitudes improved overall and they played together much better as a team as the season progressed. The most improved players for freshmen were Tony Des Roisers and Mike Stedman, for J.V. it was Jason Olsen.

ENTHUSIASM HELPS GIRLS

By Julie Bacon

For this year's girl's Varsity Basketball Team, enthusiasm was the key. "Enthusiasm rubs off and tends to inspire and stimulate others," stated Coach Jim Ferrando.

As of February, another year of basketball was underway. Tryouts were held the first week of February, with 34 girls struggling for the eleven open positions. This year, there were two returning players for the Dons, Beth Shumway and Holly Vitello.

For Jim Ferrando, this was his second year as the coach of the team.

WORKING ON FUNDAMENTALS

Conditioning week: known as the week of challenge and hard work. After school between 2:30 and 4:00 p.m., 13 girls tried out for frosh and 15 girls tried out for J.V. basketball. They put all their effort and best skills forward as coaches Ms. Joan McDonald and Mr. Chris Colville prepared to choose the teams. During the Frosh practices they worked on sprinting, running stadium steps, jumping rope and they also worked in the weight room. When the season team had been picked they worked on more basketball skills and they also picked a team captain. They did not have a chosen co-captain, the girls rotated the position of co-captain. "The J.V. girls worked on basketball fundamentals and team skills," stated Coach Colville.

This past year's Varsity Wrestling Team was headed by Coach Randy Bishop, whose been coaching here for 10 years. The team consisted of 13 of the best wrestlers at this school. The team was very enthusiastic and had good team effort. They were not only their own individuals but they worked well together. They were looking forward to going to State and their goal was to win the Metro Division.

Toby Johnson, top wrestler on the team stated, "I fell that we had one of the best coaching staffs in the state. In the next couple of years, Coronado's program should be one of the best in Arizona, as the coaches pull the talent from up and coming wrestlers."

TEAM SHOWS GREAT SPIRIT

By Melanie Ferber

"I think this year's team is better because of the attitudes. Wrestling takes dedication, on and off the mat," said Coach Brian Ritter, a first year wrestling coach. "We've got a good frosh team, and we work hard. It's hard work. We want a winning season."

The frosh team practiced everyday right after school. "We are very good and we try hard," commented freshmen team member Jim Wood.

"We're an up and coming team, we're improving, we have a lot of potential and I think we're going to get the job done," stated J.V. team member Eric Mills.

TRACK WORKS HARD TO WIN

By Chris Fadley

The track team started February getting ready for all the different events. Events include running, hurdling, high jumping, shot put, discus and pole vaulting.

Track is an individual sport rather than a team sport. This year they are looking forward to Bich Leu to have a good season. The track team has about 35-40 members.

This year, track was coached by Bob Tellef, Joe Corte and Jack Wesolowski. The first meet was against Maryvale on March 4.

BASEBALL TEAM:

EXCELLENCE

By Melanie Ferber

"I grew up wanting to coach, I played for some outstanding coaches and it was just something I've wanted to do for a long time," said Mr. Roy Coppinger. "Last years team was an outstanding group and they had an outstanding season."

"This year's team, I think will represent Coronado well; academically, and in baseball. They are a group to work with. They're working hard and they want to have an outstanding season," stated Coppinger. "We have the talent to have a real fine team. We have a lot of work to do from now up to the first of March and we expect to do very well."

GOAL: TO BETTER TEAM DEFENSE

By Kym Luther
and Sue Schoenfeld

"My goal as freshman coach is to keep going and instill the great baseball tradition at Coronado High into these kids," stated Coach Jim Poole.

This year, Coronado had a new league with Saguaro, Carl Hayden, Trevor Browne, Central and Alhambra. The J.V. team also entertained Arcadia at home and visited Chaparral.

The J.V. team emphasized team speed and versatility with strong defense, while the frosh teams' goals were to learn the fundamentals and skills needed to play baseball here at Coronado High while having fun.

"To further enhance individual player abilities so as to better prepare the players for varsity competition is the goal for my J.V. team," stated Coach DiAngelo.

Freshman Frank Lobue has high hopes for his high school years with football and baseball playing major roles.

Playing football and baseball are a major part of Frank's life. Hoping to play them for his four years here at Coronado, they take up most of his time both during school and during the summer.

His goals for after high school, besides having fun, are to earn a scholarship in football, if possible, to the University of Southern California and to work hard enough to be accepted to the Air Force Academy, where he hopes to become a fighter pilot.

But for right now, Frank is just sitting back and enjoying his time at Coronado High School. "I think Coronado is the best, rowdiest, most partying school in Arizona!" commented Frank.

By Julie Bacon

"Bascially, I want our class to get involved and increase their class spirit," stated Roya Aslamy about the Class of 1991.

This year Roya Aslamy was Freshman Class President. She said being class president was a lot of fun as was getting involved. One big involvement she had was with the freshman Homecoming float.

Other than student council, Roya was also involved with many clubs on campus, including French Club, Speech and Debate, and Key Club. Along with clubs, she also held down two A-Track classes, English and biology. With all this involvement, Roya still maintained a 4.0 G.P.A.

Outside of school, Roya's interests and hobbies included volunteering at St. Daniel's church. She also likes to go places with her friends, such as shopping and dancing.

What are Roya's future plans for herself and Coronado? After high school, she would like to go on to college and become a corporate or criminal lawyer. For her time remaining at Coronado, she wants to try to get her class more involved and stay active in student council.

"I want Coronado to be known, and I want other people to know Coronado is a great school!"

"I think that Coronado is great! They offer a lot of activities and chances to get involved," says Freshman Tricia Mitchell.

Tricia is the vice president of the Freshman class. She was also last year's eighth grade president at Supai.

She is very involved in dance, "I practice every day after school. We travel to competitions all over the country. It's a lot of hard work but I love it!"

Along with dancing and being vice president, she also keeps at least a 4.0 grade point average. She is currently enrolled in many honors courses so she hoped to have above a 4.0 this year.

I want to do my best to get the freshmen involved and make Coronado a better place to be," she commented.

"She's an enthusiastic student and I think that she was a great choice for vice president of the freshmen class," says Miles Brown, one of Tricia's friends. "I'm very glad I had the opportunity to meet her."

Busy, dedicated, and involved are a few ways to describe sophomore Eric Mills.

Eric has been involved with sports heavily during his two years at Coronado. Amidst his freshman year, you could find Eric participating on the Freshman football team, wrestling, and baseball. This past year, Eric was involved with junior varsity football, wrestling, and baseball. He also plans on continuing these activities throughout his next two years at Coronado.

Along with his busy sports schedule, Eric manages to hold down a 3.5 grade point average. Upon graduation from Coronado, Eric plans on attending college and majoring in architecture.

Outside of school, Eric works weekends in a bowling alley. His summer was spent with his friends and going to the lake. Eric enjoys the many activities assoicated with the lake.

Eric enjoys attending Coronado and he expresses this by his comment, "Most of the students at Coronado are really cool and I feel that Coronado has an outstanding sports program."

"I want to do the best I can throughout my high school and college years," stated sophomore Joy Ploski. Ploski, hopes to get a basketball scholarship to UCLA and major in Law.

Joy excelled not only in one, but three sports. Volleyball, softball, and basketball are only a few of Joy's school activities. Joy started playing volleyball in 5th grade, and basketball since 3rd grade, which has given her an enormous amount of experience. Joy was also involved in the Spanish Caramba Club and summer basketball camp. Practicing her basketball skills, Joy would like to "work on her ball handling with her right hand, since she is left handed."

Having close to a 4.0 grade point average, Joy is also involved a lot with her family, going on camping trips, water skiing and snow skiing, out side of school.

When asked how she felt about Coronado she stated, "CHS has a lot of spirit, everybody gets along, and coaches are great."

"Coronado High School has good potential as a high school, and offers many opportunities to its students," stated Sophomore Wendy Gerteisen.

Wendy sets high goals for herself. Her goals are to keep a high grade point average while staying involved in school activities. In the past two years of high school Wendy has been involved in cheerleading and student council. While doing all this, she maintains a 3.7 G.P.A. For the future, Wendy wants to study psychology and business, and to one day become an attorney at law.

Wendy spends her weekends with friends, shopping, working and just having fun.

Wendy also stated "I think you should take high school as serious as possible . . . after all its just the beginning of your whole life."

"The aspect I enjoy most about Cornado is the people, because everybody can be themselves," commented junior Todd Fishel.

This was the reason Todd gave for his involvment with school and extracurricular activities. He has been on the Coronado football team for three years and plans to play his senior year, also. He wrestled on the Freshman and Junior Varsity wrestling teams, and played baseball his freshman year. Along with sports, Todd has managed to keep a 3.8 G.P.A. and join some clubs on campus. In his spare time, Tod likes to go out with his friends or lift weights.

Todd also has some plans for the future. "I would like to earn a scholarship to a major university, possibly A.S.U." Todd thinks he would enjoy studying law or psychology in college. As for now, Todd works during the weekends to save money for college.

"Coronado is an interesting place to go to school," stated junior Ryan Freeburg.

Ryan is involved in many extra curricular activities here at Coronado. In the past three years, he has been involved in Varsity Football and Varsity Baseball, and he plans to continue these activities throughout his remaining years at Coronado.

All of these activities do not interfere with Ryan academically. He has been able to maintain a 4.0 grade point average. Ryan would like to attend a four year university, possibly Stanford or an Ivy League school back East. He'd like to play baseball for them and major in business. His main goal, is to play professional baseball, and then retire into business.

On weekends, you can find Ryan spending time with friends and family.

Laura Bohlman has been at Coronado since her freshman year. She was involved in her class cabinet and the Speech and Debate team during her freshman year during her sophomore year she served as secretary and performed on the J.V. cheerline.

"I'm glad I joined the German club this year," stated Laura, "it's the best of all the activities I've been in at Coronado!"

Laura is also active in the community with the Tempe Sister City Program through which she hopes to go to West Germany this summer.

Laura has been dancing for only three years. However, her involvement in Julies Jazz Pizzazz and The International Dance Foundation shows much talent. This ability enabled her to travel around the world. Last summer she went to Russia where she performed in front of diplomats, dancers and Russian foreign exchange students.

"They really loved our performances, we got standing ovations," stated Laura.

This was more than fun. It was also a learning experience.

"It's really not as bad as most Americans make it seem," she added.

"I like high school because I feel like I've changed so much, for the better, since I first stepped on campus!" said senior Dana Fortney.

Dana has been very busy during her four years at Coronado. She has been a mat maid all four years and on the Explorer staff, of which she is now the editor, for three years. She joined both Criada and the International Thespian Society in her junior year.

"I'd really like to go into Journalism Communication, Fashion Merchandising, or become involved in a youth oriented ministry." Dana maintained a 3.0 grade point average with her grades consisting of A's and B's.

"I feel that without high school you might be a little lost when you're in the real world. I also feel that the friends I've made are very special and I'll never forget the times we've spent. When I graduate I'll be sad but in a way I'll be happy, not only for myself but for my class; because we have finally made it!!!"

"The people in my life who I feel have made the most impact are my mom and dad. I don't know what I would have done without their help," said Dana with much emotion. Something that's interesting is that I've lived in the same house all my life and my parents and two sisters lived there before I was born. We have a lot of tradition, it's made growing up a lot easier!"

"NHS really is a good club made up of people who really care about Coronado and themselves," stated this year's National Honor Society President, Martha Kurz.

Being NHS president must have been time consuming, but Martha also found the time for many A-Track classes and a 4.5 G.P.A. Along with her heavy class load, Martha found time to play Freshman, JV, and Varsity basketball for the Dons. She not only played basketball, but also was in the Coronado Don's Marching Band from her freshman to Junior year. In the band she played the saxophone.

Outside of school, Martha's interests included playing tennis and being involved with CYO at St. Daniel's. She also volunteered at Scottsdale Memorial Hospital for the past three years.

The University of San Diego is Martha's goal after graduation. There, she would like to major in Medical Engineering. Someday, she would like to design equipment for hospitals and for the handicapped.

"I think Coronado has provided a lot of people with great memories and lasting friends," commented Martha about her feeling for C.H.S.

"When I was first chosen yearbook editor I knew it was going to be a lot of hard work and esponsibility. Most people don't know how much work it really is," said Ron Amodio.

Besides being yearbook Editor-in-Chief his senior year Ron was involved in other activi-ies which included: basketball his freshman year; CYO, cabinet member and yearbook staffer his sophomore year; and Sports Editor his junior year.

Out of school Ron was involved in sports such as basketball, volleyball, golf and swim-ning. Ron also held a job at Lionel Playworld while maintaining a 3.2 G.P.A.

Being close to his family has helped Ron in his activities. "Even though we all have busy schedules we always find time for each other," Ron stated. His family supports him in the decisions he makes and the things he decides to do.

After graduation Ron plans to go on to A.S.U. or N.A.U. majoring in broadcasting and minoring in Physical Education. He would like to become a sports broadcaster and is interested in coaching.

Q: Has anything special or strange ever happened in one of your classes?

A: "Once, just after I welcomed a Frosh English class to Coronado, one of the new students got out of his desk, walked to the trash can, and vomited into it!" -Mr. G. Stephens

A: "When I had taught 20 years, my homeroom presented me with roses and a gold pendant with the year engraved on the back." -Ginny Reinken

Q: Is there anything you would like to say? (about anything?)

A: "A very valuable discovery that we often fail to make is that life is far too precious and too short to waste in rudeness or in laziness. In addition, I would like to say how much I treasure the memories and kindliness of the many students who have treated me so well through the years. High School students are not afraid to show they care. -Mrs. S. Sherrod

End Of The TRAIL . . .

The year started off as the Dons went into existence for their 27th year, with the '87 baseball team making it to the State Semi-Finals.

The football team ended the season with a record of 3 wins, 7 losses, but they competed till the end of each game.

Organizations and clubs went into the year with new members and began fundraisers for the upcoming events. The Arts Department was busy with the productions of "The Good Doctor" and "Godspell."

The culmination of the Senior year was the Junior/Senior Prom. Once again the Senior Trip was to Disneyland.

As the year came to a close, we all had to say goodbye to our Head Varsity Basketball Coach Herb Sherman, who coached the Dons for 24 years, 20 years as Varsity Coach.

As the Seniors say farewell to the "best years of their lives" they move on to plan for great challenges in the future.

LISA ANN REA (TKUS)
WHEN YOU WERE SMALL, WE HELD YOU IN OUR ARMS AND WE NOW HOLD YOU IN OUR HEARTS.
STAND TALL, SMILE, THE FUTURE IS YOURS. YOU HAVE BROUGHT US JOY, AND THE TRUE MEANING OF LOVE.
LISA, WE ARE VERY PROUD OF YOU.
LOVE, MOM AND DAD (GR)

WITH
MOM

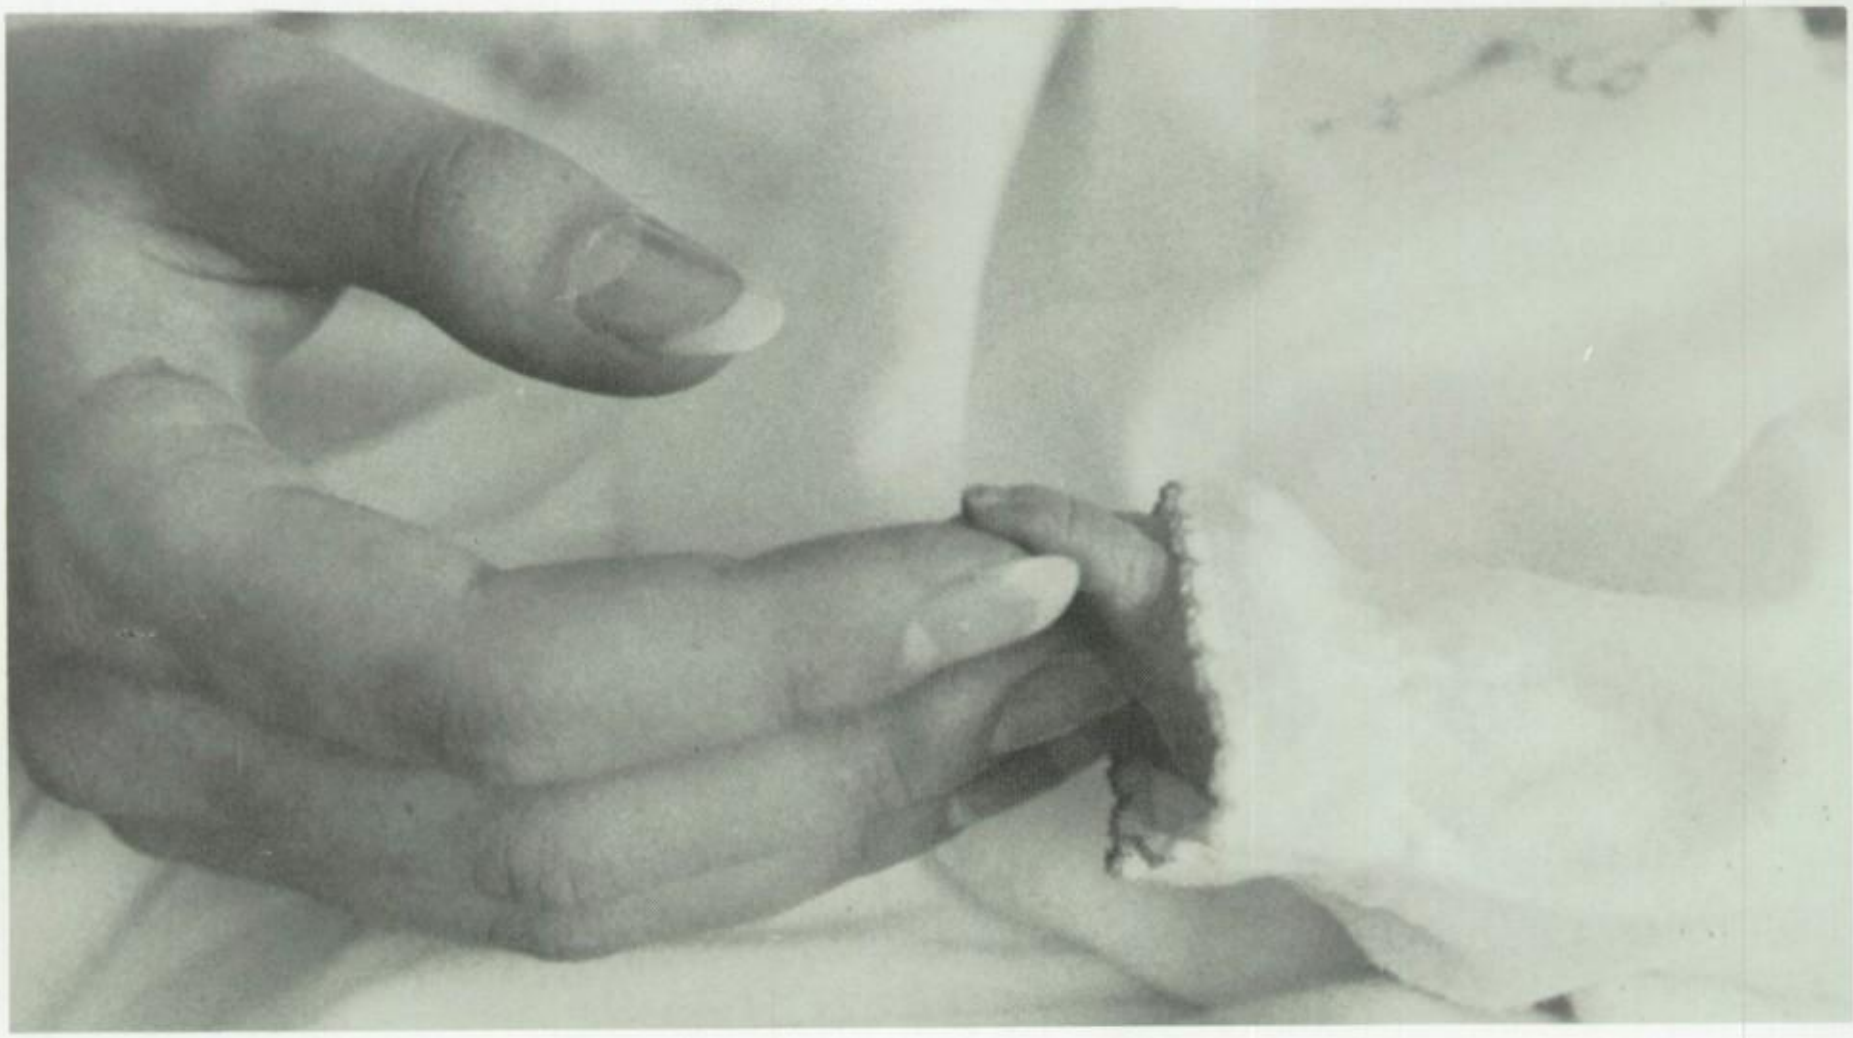
ALWAYS THINK OF THE MILESTONES IN YOUR LIFE AS BEGINNINGS NOT ENDINGS. WE HOPE THAT THE MEMORIES OF YOUR LIFE WILL ALWAYS BE AS VIVID AND WONDERFUL AS THOSE WE HAVE OF YOU. NO MATTER WHERE YOU ARE OR HOW ALONE YOU MAY FEEL, IF YOU NEED SOMEONE WHO LOVES YOU . . . REACH INTO YOUR MIND AND WE'LL BE THERE.

LOVE, MOM, DAD AND DUSTIN



JOANN BENAVIDEZ

LIFT YOUR SIGHTS AND AIM SO HIGH THAT YOU START DOING THE THINGS GOD MADE FOR YOU.
YOU HAVE GROWN INTO A BEAUTIFUL YOUNG LADY.
MY EYE'S HARDLY BELIEVE WHAT THEY SEE.
MY HEART FEELS LIKE BURSTING WITH PRIDE.
YOU ARE A SPECIAL DAUGHTER.

LOVE, YOUR MOM

JAYSON D. BREWSTER

SUCCESS HAS BEEN YOURS IN MANY WAYS. KEEP YOUR HIGH SCHOOL MEMORIES AND FRIENDSHIPS CLOSE TO YOUR HEART AND USE THEM TO FIND GREATER SUCCESS IN YOUR FUTURE.

LOVE ALWAYS,
MOM, DAD AND MIKE

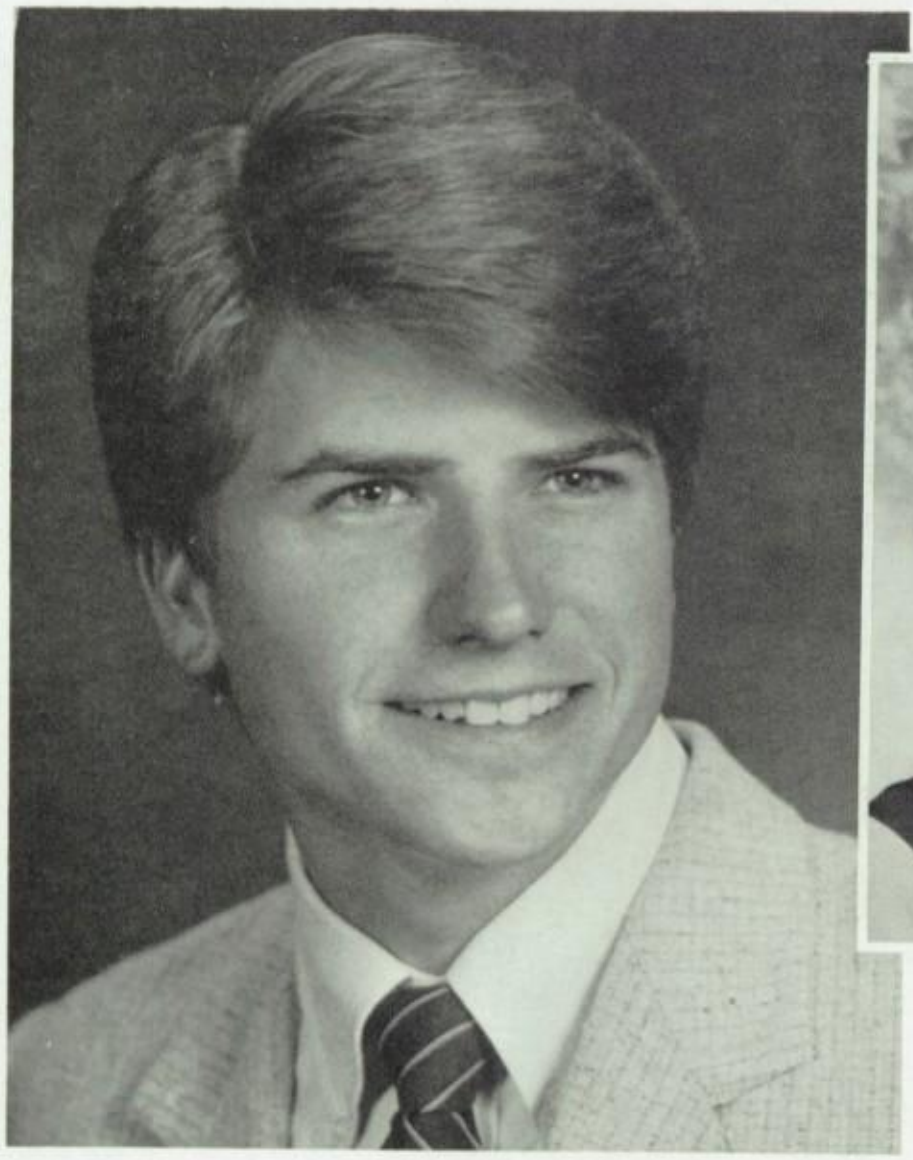
THE WORLD NEEDS YOU

God could have made you different but loves you as you are;
It's good character that matters,
It pleases him by far.
Each one has capabilities,
Each one is quite unique,
Each has potentialities,
That pop out if we seek.
God gave us each distinctive gifts and you have quite a few,
Determine to make use of them,
The world has need of you.

Love, your parents

Rachel Hawbaker, Heathyre Bales, Tina Deniger, Shannon Browning.



Martin Henderson

You are an exceptional person, and I am so very proud of you. May your life be forever filled with love and laughter.

I love you, Mom

ANDREA L. RABY

GRADUATION BRINGS SUCH SPECIAL THOUGHTS AND CHERISHED MEMORIES, TOO, OF WHAT IT'S ALWAYS MEANT TO HAVE A DAUGHTER JUST LIKE YOU — A DAUGHTER WHO HAS ALWAYS BROUGHT SUCH JOY TO EVERY DAY AND WHO DESERVES THE NICEST THINGS THAT LIFE CAN BRING HER WAY. CONGRATULATIONS ANDREA. WE ARE VERY PROUD OF YOU.

LOVE - ALWAYS,
MOM AND DAD

TOBY AMBROSE

TOBY I AM VERY PROUD OF YOU! GOOD LUCK TO YOU IN THE COMING YEARS AND MAKE THE MOST OF THE ASSETS THAT YOU HAVE. ALWAYS LET YOUR SENSE OF HUMOR BE KNOWN.

DO NOT FEAR FAILURE IN ANYTHING YOU CHOOSE TO AND STAND UP FOR WHAT IS RIGHT. NEVER, NEVER COMPROMISE YOUR INTEGRITY. LOVE YOU.
MOM

"Press on"

"Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence.

Talent will not; nothing is more common than unsuccessful individuals with talent.

Genius will not; the world is full of educated derelicts.

Persistence and determination alone are omnipotent.

What you andently desire, sincerely believe in, vividly imagine; enthusiastically act on; must inevitably come to pass."

What ever you choose to do be happy; we are proud of you and love you.

Love,
Mom, Dad and
Jeff

TO THE LAST RUMANN, CONGRATULATIONS RACHEL!
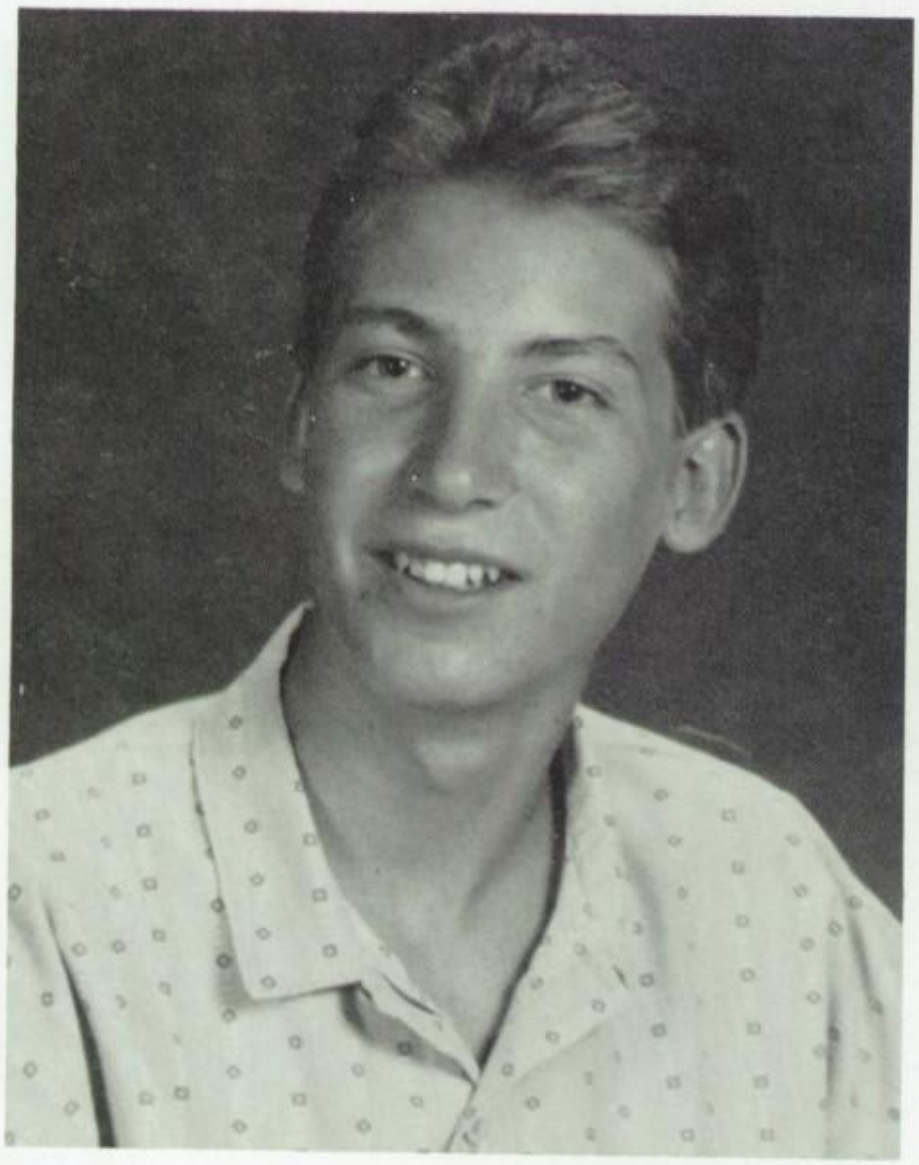
It's great to see you grow.



Scott O'Toole

To My Grown-Up Son
My hands were busy through the day, I didn't have much time to play. The little games you asked me to, I didn't have much time for you.

I'd wash your clothes; I'd sew and cook. But when you'd bring your picture book and ask me, please, to share your fun, I'd say, "A little later son."

I'd tuck you in all safe at night, and hear your prayers, turn out the light, then tiptoe softly to the door. I wish I'd stayed a minute more.

For life is short, and years rush past, a little boy grows up fast. No longer is he at your side, his precious secrets to confide.

The picture books are put away. There are no children's games to play, no goodnight kiss, no prayers to hear, that all belongs to yesteryear.

My hands once busy, now lie still, the days are long and hard to fill, I wish I might go back and do, the little things you asked me to.

-Alice E. Chase

Our love is with you forever,

Lisa DeLuca

May the future hold the happiness and pleasure that others know, because of knowning you.

Congratulations,
Mom and Dad

Dear graduating editors,
You've been through a lot during the last four years. Some of it good . . . some of it "not so good." Some things you had to do on your own. Some things you've been able to help eachother with. Each time though, you've made it! I appreciate all the thought, time and effort you put into publishing the yearbook. It hasn't been easy. Now that it is finished, you can be proud of all that you contributed.

Thank you,
Miss Duff

Hey Chad!

How's your life? I wish I had a long message to say like you put in my yearbook. But I'll try my best. You have been such a great boyfriend and friend throughout ~~the~~ this year. I am so glad that at the beginning of the year in World Geography class you started talking to me. I can't wait till both of us are out of high school so we can head over to California and get married or vice versa. Thanks so much for being there for me ~~them~~ when I needed you. Sorry (you're going to kill me for saying that aren't you) for being a pretty deaf person, and I know you get mad because of that. I can hear what you're saying, but it just doesn't comprehend in my brain. I get that from my mom who gets that from my grandma. I better stop before our German teacher gets pissed at me. I love you so much and always will for ever and ever.

Luv 'n stuff,

P.S. I cried when I read your message in Biology

It has been a long year with Fagnikof and I hope they find a new teacher for German II. But next year you can sit next to me again so you can chant off my paper. It's been as usual. Sure I wish II could stay in this class. fun in first hour but it sucks in oh well, until next year.

Chad Adams

Hey Dude,
Whats happenin? Engl'ish class was so incredibly fun! Ha ha ha.
Well I'm glad were friends even though we didn't get to talk much. I want be there next year so have a great summer
and high school years.
Love ya, K.T. 345-9221

Sandy Walsey

P.S. Stay sweet
& Keep smiling!
JL

PLEASE! DONT BE AFRAID TO CALL! 837-0772

DORK! I'm kidding Chad - your to lovable! Thanx for all your time with laughter and tears. Lord no's that I've had enough of those! I hope I see you this summer - with Sara of course! I love you guy - See ya our Junior next year! Yes I'm stupid not a stuck-up!

Chad you awsome jock you
I'm glad I got to meet you this year [redacted] Stay cool

Nick Laioy

Chad,

Gosh was it luck I wrote under this one? I'm glad we got to know each other 'cause you helped break up some of the boredom of English, as well as those other activities we managed to pull off. I hope I'll see you and Sara next year. I'm expectin' you'll beg readin' this summer (it can't hurt ya)!! Then maybe next year ya won't come back illiterate

(Vic) Nick

P.S. Call me again and I'll kill ya

Chadly,

Hey! Well this certainly has been an interesting year hasn't it? You never even heard of me until September. Well you might be surprised hear this but your telling me how you thought I was putty and stuff actually helped me. Sometimes I feel like the grossest thing on earth! So it made me feel better. Anyway you a great runner keep it up & make me + you will be the best VARSITY distance runners by senior year. It possible & And you'd better not call me stuck up next year or I'll be PISST. & But anyway have a great summer & Next year were juniors & yea!!! Call me & You'd better at least I. & Good luck with Sara & She's putty &

love
Sara W.
